Your goal for right now is to reach $500 per month with one of these business models. I want you to focus on that goal absolutely, until you have succeeded with just one business model. In fact, you may not even want to read this report until you have achieved that goal. I don't want you to get distracted in any way. Distraction and trying to do too much at once is what causes so many Internet marketers to fail.

You need to focus.

But when you're ready, there's no reason why you can't stack business models to achieve a full-time income. Let's say you have $500 a month coming in because you've built up your list. It makes sense that you would then start to create your own products and attach that business model. Some of these business models build one on top of the other. You can earn with social media, digital products, Kindle books, Fiverr, and really everything you've seen here in this guide. However, you need to focus on one thing at a time. Then, you can add more income streams, one by one.

It becomes easier over time. For example, once you have a list to promote to, you have a built-in audience for the products you create or for your Kindle books, so it helps you build those new income streams much faster.

In the long-term, it's very important that you don't put all of your eggs in one basket. Let's say the Kindle business model suddenly isn't viable tomorrow or all of your sales dry up inexplicably. That would be devastating to you to lose your $500 per month added income. But if you have several of these income funnels going, then the loss of one isn't nearly as devastating. Not to mention that the more you do, the more you'll figure out what works.

If you've already started with one business model...which others appeal to you? Is there a way to link those together? Go with what you think you will have a passion for and what you think you can achieve. If you need to achieve a full-time income quickly, then go with the one you think will be the easiest for you and the one that will bring in income the fastest. For instance, if you're a prolific writer, focusing on Kindle, freelance writing, and creating your own info products can be a great combination. Mix and match and do whatever works for you.

At the start of this book, we talked about whether $500 per month could change your life. Well, what would $1000 extra per month do for you? The chances are that that would be life-changing income. What if you got to $2000, $3000, or even $10,000 extra per month? That is absolutely possible if you work hard, stay focused, and stack successful business models on top of one another.

You might make it your goal to stack another business model every single month. That gives you one month to focus on a new business model as well as the wiggle room to try something new. Just remember not to move on to a new business model until you have been successful with the first one. If you focus and set goals, stacking income streams can absolutely work for you so you can quickly and easily earn a full-time income.

Now's the Time to Earn an Extra $500 Every Month

This is the start of your very exciting journey. You are going to focus. If you focus and follow the steps, you will find it easy to earn an extra $500 per month. In fact, you might be shocked at how quickly it can happen.

That's not to say that you won't make mistakes and that you won't have any setbacks along the way. It is to say that you need to be dedicated enough that you're going to push through no matter what happens. If you get stuck or need help with anything, find the answer. Search for it on Google or YouTube. Ask someone who has been successful with the business model. Those who are successful push forward no matter what.

Remember, many thousands of people have done each of these methods successfully, and so can you.

You are the only one who can make this happen for you. You are the only one who can change your life by adding an extra $500 per month at a time. This should be a fun and exciting process. Maybe you feel butterflies in your stomach because this is something new for you. Or, maybe you have tried and failed to make money online before. But, all that's behind you now... now your path is clear.

In fact, even very experienced Internet marketers can get renewed motivation to add hundreds or thousands more dollars to their income every month. What matters is the mindset just as much as the method. Grab hold of the excitement you feel right now and move forward with the business model. Work it until you are successful. Stop at nothing until you have achieved that extra $500 per month. Once you're successful and comfortable, add in additional methods so you can stack your income to whatever level you want to achieve.
